

Story about Emma

I am Emma. I am good at Chinese. I liked writing Chinese words but I did not like Putonghua. It was hard to speak Putonghua. When I spoke Putonghua in front of the class, I felt like I was walking on eggshells.

Therefore, I asked for extra help from my Putonghua teacher, Miss Chan. I wanted to do better in Putonghua. She said, “You can try harder when you practice Putonghua.”

Now, I can speak Putonghua more fluently. I sometimes still have butterflies in my stomach.
