

A Stomach Ache

Today, I went to the cinema with Aunt Karen. When we arrived at the cinema, I quickly pointed out the movie that I wanted to watch and said gratefully, 'I want to watch this movie! I want to watch it! I watched the movie trailer and it is very cool!' Aunt Karen agreed and walked to the ticket counter to buy the tickets.

Unfortunately, there was a long queue at the ticket counter. We waited to buy the tickets for more than one hour, but then we were impatient. After that, we went to the snack counter and bought a large bucket of popcorn and a large cup of soda. I was so excited that I couldn't wait to have them.

During the movie, I suddenly felt a serious pain in my stomach, but I thought I was just hungry because Aunt Karen was fine.

I kept eating more and more popcorn and the serious pain in my stomach got stronger until I couldn't hold it anymore, so eventually I asked Aunt Karen, 'May I go to the washroom, please?' Then she nodded her head, and I quickly rushed into the washroom. Afterwards, I went back into the cinema, but it only showed the credits. Then I thought, 'Aww...I missed half of the movie.'

Then, I walked back to my seat and sighed. Aunt Karen noticed my sad face and brought me to the toy shop to cheer me up. I saw a toy related to the movie 'Super Joe'. So, Aunt Karen bought it for me. When I got home, I played with it all day and night, I was so happy.

Today was a good day because I got a toy from my favourite movie. I also learnt that we shouldn't eat too much oily food such as popcorn.
