

My Uncle's Job

My uncle is a policeman. He arrests criminals, investigates cases and protects people.

He has teamwork skills because he does missions well with his team. He also has good communication skills because he communicates with others well. He also has critical thinking skills because he always does the correct action.

I think being a policeman is meaningful because they save people's lives and protect the whole city. It is also exciting because they work in dangerous situations that may cost them their lives. It is also a difficult job because they need to solve different kinds of cases.

I admire my uncle. He tries his best to be a good policeman.
